NOTES

The Delaine Heritage fleet all remain licensed PCVs and are retained for their historical interest and use on special duties

- i - The last vehicle to be purchased by the founder of the family motor bus business Thomas Arthur Smith. Privately Preserved 1979-90
- ii - Only two Double Deck bodies were ever built by Yeates of Loughborough, both especially for Delaine. This is the second of the pair and having been continually licensed as a PCV since new makes it the longest serving Yeates bodied PCV vehicle
- iii - Part of a batch five vehicles in a consortium with fellow independants Whippet of Fenstanton and OK Motor Services of Bishop Auckland, which were the first examples of the new Leyland Atlantean AN68 chassis with the extended wheelbase. With seating for 82 made the the largest capacity vehicles in the country at the time
